Civic Improvement League Hears Government Scheme. Considered.

JUDGE W.H. KING THE SPEAKER

Results and Aims of New Municipal System Theme of Talk Last Night.

In an effort to take the city government out of the hands of politicians, abolish the machinery by which political bosses fix their power on the municipality, and create a new system under which more direct responsibility to the people is secured, and a simpler business government, brought into existence, the Civic Improvement league last night met to discuss the Des Moines plan.

Its way of getting at these problems was outlined, and another meeting was announced for next Friday to go further into the details of preparing a definite bill for the consideration of the next legislature.

The speakers before the league's board of governors were all in favor of an immediate and aggressive campaign through the next legislature in favor of the Des Moines plan. Those who took this view were Judge W. H. King, Rev. E. I. Goshen, W. Mont Ferry, Henry W. Lawrence, O. H. Hewlett and Oscar L. Cox.

Judge William H. King in elaborating the Des Moines plan, and the manner in which it has proved effective, said in part:

"The Des Moines plan is such that it commends itself to all lovers of municipal reform. The committee of the Civic Improvement league, in its session this afternoon, decided unantmously that the Des Moines plan of commission government was, the best adapted for Salt Lake, and they further felt, as we all do, that Salt Lake is sorely in need of a change in city government which will give freedom from politics, "It is a well known fact that the administration of the city's business here in past years has permitted too much of politics and too little of business People are beginning to realize more The Des Moines plan is such that it of politics and too little of business. People are beginning to realize more and more that the government of a city is a scientific proposition and not a political proposition or an office-hoiders' proposition. People are beginning to realize that any plan which shall remove the government of the city from the color of politics will be for the welfare of all.

PAST ADMINISTRATIONS.

PAST ADMINISTRATIONS.

"There is no doubt that all past administrations of Sait Lake have been mainly political and it is time for the citizens to rise up and select a business men's administration. The cities of England and Scotland are governed by eminent men—men of fame in science and letters—and they are well governed.

"In England and Scotland the noted men of the cities consider it a mark of distinction to round out their useful lives by helping to govern the cities. Is that so in America? You will find here that men of ability have not the time to run for the city offices, and men of time have not the ability to run those offices.

FIXES RESPONSIBILITY.

"Every deep thinking citizen will admit that it is better to put the power of government in the hands of a few men and then the responsibility for all their ages can be placed. The men and then the responsibility for all their acts can be placed. There is no question that commission government will be a vast improvement over our present plan, for American cities are notoriously mismanaged. The commission cannot become too autocratic, for the reins are held by the people, and the people can call a special election at any time and unseat any one of the commission if he is guilty of wrongdoing or mismanagement. ing or mismanagem

g or mismanagement,
We have decided that it would be set to elect the three men at large than by the vote of any ward. We than by the vote of any ward. We do not want anyone in that commission to be chained to any particular locality. The Des Moines plan also provides for a civil service commission, and all minor city offices, the police and fire departments would be filled through civil service examinations, and the most competent would not be tyrical entering. and they would not be turned out as they are now when one party gains control in power over another.

DISCOURAGES POLITICS.

DISCOURAGES POLITICS.

"The whole plan will encourage independence and discourage politicul grip. The Des Moines plan marks the doom of the political boss. The city government would be business-like because the civil service feature in filling positions would make it impossible to repay political debts by handing out city jobs. Political pull would not predominate, but competency would.
"Our city council have felt in the past that they owned the earth, and they have tumbled over themselves in their desire to give away valuable franchises to railroads and other corporations. Under the Des Moines plan, no franchise could be granted unless by vote of the majority of the people, and therefore that prolific source of corruption would be eradicated."

CANVASS NOT COMPLETE

The result of the canvass of the Salt Lake county vote is not to be made known this week, and probably not for everal more days.

several more days.

The canvassing board has encountered a difficulty owing to the fact that irregularities have been discovered in the manner of handling the returns in certain country districts. Instead of filing the report separate from the ballots the district judges sealed these reports up in the sack with the ballots, and they were found to be missing vesterday afternoon by the canvassing yesterday afternoon by the canvassing board.

To solve the difficulty then arising an order was secured from the district court, upon a petition presented by the county attorney at the instance of the county clerk. This order authorized the canvassing board to open the sacks from the districts in which difficulty had been encountered, in search of the official returns. official returns.

The returns from districts 64, 73, 91, 93 and 80 were located in this manner. Returns from District 81 were found to be still in the ballot box, and not in the sack. They were transferred upon the court's order, but the returns were not found, and they were afterwards located by the canvassers among their own carries by the canvassers among their own papers, having become mis-laid. There are still 25 districts to can-vass, so that the report will probably not be made until Monday evening.

GARFIELD BUILDING BOOM.

Garfield is apparently on the eye of a big building boom. In adition to the 50 cottages now in progress of crection, the mining and smelter compantion, the mining and smelter compan-ies out there are reported by con-tractors as intending to build about 200 more, to be from three to 10 rooms in size, an improvement calling for an expenditure of a quarter of a mil-lion dollars. It is believed when this is done, there will be good prospects for the building of the street railway between Garfield and Salt Lake that has been so long deferred. has been so long deferred.

CELEBRATE FOUNDERS' DAY.

Students of Latter-Day Saints' University Gathered for Occasion

The twenty-second anniversary of he founding of the Latter-Day Saints university was commemorated Friday morning in Barratt hall. The assembly of about 600 students and visitors was called to order at 10 a. m, and the program lasted until 12 a. m. President Joseph F. Smith and Professor John Henry Evans, of the L. D. S. university faculty, were principal speakers. Prof. Evans read a carfully prepared paper on the history of the institution, which represents the first complete record of that nature which has been compiled. He spoke not only of the development of the school accomodations but outlined the educational progress of the school from the time it comprehended but an elementary class or two in the old Socal hall in the year 1886, the year of its foundation. From the Social hall a branch of the school was moved to the Eagle Gate school-house. Willard Done presided over the whole school as principal. Departments of the school were moved from the Social hall to the old Elierbeck property on First North street, and later to the Seventeenth-ward meetinghouse. In 1899 Prof. J. H. One more move was made to the Lion house and then the college was formally established in the new business colege building. Prof. Evans mapped out the hard struggle during those years of removal and development its founders and teachers had encountered in keeping it above water and on the forward march.

President Joseph F. Smith then addressed the assembly with special words of warning the young men against the evil effects of entering places of any kind where liquor or tobacco were sold. He showed that they could not do this and remain loyal to the school as the principal object in organizing the Church school was to instill into the hearts of young people the fear of God. was to instill into the hearts of young people the fear of God.

LEAGUE RENEWS FIGHT.

Uniform Bill of Lading Opposed by Chicago Traffic Association.

Chicago, Nov. 14.-The National Industrial Traffic league has begun anew its fight on the new uniform bill of ladits fight on the new uniform bill of lad-ing. At a meeting held yesterday the executive committee of the league in-structed the bill of lading committee to collect all of the objections to the uniform bill of lading and present them to the executive committee at its Jan-uary meeting. In addition to this the executive committee is colong to the uary meeting. In addition to this the executive committee is going to try to get the railroads to reconsider the clause of the bill which provides for a 10 per cent advance in the rate when the carrier accepts shipments at the carriers' risk or when the shipper does not wish to abide by the restrictions of the bill of lading. It is undestood that the league did not receive much encouragement from the interstate commerce commission with respect to an attack upon the bill, but it is thought that if the railroads persist in the 10 per cent clause the matter will be taken into the courts. It is contended by the shippers that to charge more than the extra insurance upon the shipments is illegal and that these extra insurances cannot be measured at the same figure for all commodities. at the same figure for all commodities.

The two Mexicans, Rangel and Nieto, who murdered George M. Rose, a former resident of Salt Lake about a year ago at the Matias Mill in the state of Guanajuato, were executed at the City of Guanajuato on the morning of Nov. 7. The Mexican Herald of Nov. 8, contains the following reference to the crime and the last moments of the murderers:

murderers:
Rose was superintendent of the San Matias mill, and lived with his family near the Presa. One night in November last year four men entered his home, with the intention of robbing it. Rose was awakened and endeavored to frighten the men away. The men were about to run, when Mrs. Rose entered the room with a revolver. Seeing they vere cornered, the robbers attacked Rose and his wife with knives, literally carving Rose to pieces. The police, through a blunder, held Rose and let the murderers' escape, Rose dying in the hands of the police.
